HALLOWED MEMORY

The Nation Mourns the Loss of An Illustrious Son.

HARRISON SUMMONED HOME.

Grandson of a President Who Reached
The Same Exalted Station.

HONORED IN LIFE, REVERED IN DEATH

First a Farmer Boy in Ohio, Then
Lawyer and Next Statesman With a
Term in the National Senate and Four Years the Pilot of the Ship of State—Funeral Services Sunday President Will Attend.

Indianapolis, March 14.—No sooner was the news of the death of ex-President Harrison flashed to the world than the messages of inquiry which had been pouring in for several days changed to messages of sympathy and condolence, messages from intimate friends and admirers of the general, from men who had been associated with him in public life at one time or another. The greater part of them were of such an intimate personal nature that Mrs. Harrison felt their contents should not be given to the public.

One of the first messages to be received was from ex-President Cleveland, who was twice the rival of General Harrison for the presidency, once successful and once defeated. He telegraphed as follows: "Accept my sympathy in an affliction which millions share with you."

President's Condolence.

The message of condolence received by Mrs. Harrison from President and Mrs. McKinley reads as follows: "In the death of General Harrison the country has lost a distinguished statesman, a devoted patriot and an exemplary citizen. The president of the nation mourns with you. You have the heartfelt sympathy of Mrs. McKinley and myself in this hour of overwhelming sorrow in your home."

Chief Justice Fuller, Justice Harlan and Justice McKenna, of the supreme court sent messages expressing sympathy. All the members of General Harrison's cabinet when he was president sent condolences, namely from Charles Foster of Ohio, who was secretary of the treasury; John W. Foster, ex-secretary of state; ex-Secretary of War Senator S. B. Elkins; ex-Secretary of the Navy General Benjamin F. Tracy, ex-Secretary of the Interior John W. Noble and ex-Postmaster General John Wanamaker. The latter telegraphed that he would be here to attend the funeral and it is expected a number of the other ex-cabinet officers will also be present.

Whitelaw Reid, who was the nominee for vice president in 1892 with General Harrison, telegraphed from Millbrae, Cal., as follows: "We are profoundly shocked by this sudden and terrible bereavement for you and calamity of the country. Mrs. Reid joins me in the expression of sincere and deep sympathy."

Governor Nash of Ohio, Mr. Harrison's native state, sent the following: "You have the love and sympathy of Ohio in your great affliction. Her people esteemed and honored President Harrison and sincerely mourn with you."

Mr. Harrison's children were not present when he died. Neither Colonel Russell Harrison nor Mrs. McKee was there, though both were hurrying to Indianapolis. Elizabeth, the little daughter, was taken from the room by her nurse before the end came. Mr. Harrison was unconscious several hours before his death, the exact time when he passed into a comatose state being hard to determine. He spoke to no one during the day and failed to recognize even his wife.

Deathbed Scenes.

Russell B. Harrison, the general's son who arrived late Wednesday night, spent the night with W. H. Miller. Mrs. Russell Harrison and their son arrived at noon Thursday. Mrs. Mary Harrison McKee, the general's daughter, arrived at noon Thursday with Mr. McKee, from Saratoga, N. Y.

The last intelligent words spoken by General Harrison were to his wife Tuesday afternoon, shortly before he lapsed into total unconsciousness. At that time Mrs. Harrison asked him if he recognized her, and he replied that he did. At noon of the same day he recognized his aunt, Mrs. Newcomer, feebly greeting her as "Auntie," when she came to his bedside.

In the sick man's delirium, while lasted from late Sunday night until he became totally unconscious Tuesday afternoon, his mind wandered back over the great scenes of his life. At times he was the soldier charging with his column and again he was the statesman speaking before the convention that nominated him for the presidency.

Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock the time fixed for the funeral services to be held in the First Presbyterian church, of which General Harrison was a member nearly 50 years. The Rev. M. L. Haines, pastor of the church, will have charge of the service. The body of General Harrison will lie in state in the rotunda of the Capitol all day Saturday. The highest honors which it is in the power of the state of Indiana to pay will be rendered. It is intended that members of the Harrison cabinet who attend shall be among the honorary pallbearers.

At the request of Mrs. Harrison there will be no military display Sunday. The remains of the former president will be interred in the family lot in Crown Hill cemetery, where Mrs. Harrison, the first wife of the deceased is buried. It is acknowledged to be one of the most beautiful spots in the cemetery. Around the base of a knoll a shaded driveway winds through the city of the dead. The Harrison monument faces east not over 50 feet from the driveway. Near the monument stands a natural forest tree. The Harrison monument is solid and massive, but unostentatious. It is simply a rectangular piece of granite, mounted on a carved base and seemingly supported by short thick pillars. The word "Harrison" is in relief at the base.

Military Honors.

Governor Durbin sent telegrams to the governors of every state and territory in the nation, informing them that the body of General Harrison will lie in state in the Indiana capitol Saturday, that the military display of the state will be made that day and that the funeral Sunday will be of a private nature. Acting on an order of the governor, Adjutant General Gore issued an order calling out the entire state militia, consisting of 32 companies and three batteries of artillery. The companies will arrive Friday night and Saturday morning and will remain here until Saturday evening. The militia will form, under the command of Brigadier General McKee, in Washington street in front of the capitol at 10 o'clock Saturday morning and will move to the Harrison home. Promptly at 11 o'clock the body will be taken from the home and placed in the funeral car to be taken to the state house. In addition to the troops of the guard the escort will be made up of several Grand Army posts of the city and state. The Seventieth Indiana regiment, to which General Harrison belonged, will be the guard of honor, marching immediately in front of the funeral car. Immediately ahead of the regiment will be the Grand Army posts and in front of them, the state troops. While the body is lying in state it will be guarded by detachments from the artillery battalion.

Grief at Washington.

Washington, March 14.—The national capital is in mourning for ex-President Harrison. Flags are at half mast, not only upon all the public buildings but upon the hotels, stores and many of the private residences. The act of 1893 prohibits the draping of public buildings in black, as was the custom formerly after the death of an ex-president. President McKinley directed that the doors of the executive mansion be closed to visitors and denied himself to callers except those who had business of urgent importance. The president will attend the funeral accompanied by Secretary Cortelyou. Mrs. McKinley will probably go as far as Canton where the president may stop over one day. President McKinley issued a proclamation formally notifying the people of the death of their former chief magistrate and directing observance of a period of mourning for 30 days. In pursuance of this proclamation the flags on every public building in the United States, at every army post in the United States, Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Philippines, and on every American warship in whatever quarter of the globe will fly at half mast 30 days.

Cleveland Will Not Attend.

Indianapolis, March 14.—A message from former President Cleveland at Princeton announces that it will be impossible for him to attend General Harrison's funeral.

England Needs Money.

London, March 14.—The Times says it believes, that in addition to the sugar tax and the reimposition of the registration duty of a shilling on corn, the income tax will be increased by two pence, or four pence in the pound.

Double Tragedy.

Canal, Dover, O., March 14.—George Weaver, truckman, shot his wife dead as she lay sleeping, then blew out his brains.

A VILLAGE IN ASHES.

Business and Residence Portion of Cloverport, Ky., Devastated.

ONE THOUSAND PEOPLE HOMELESS.

Conflagration Started by Bursting of Natural Gas Pipe—Every Store,
Two Hotels, Two Churches and Newspaper Swept Away.

Cloverport, Ky., March 14.—Fire caused by the bursting of a natural gas pipe, destroyed property worth $500,000. The greater part of the little town was completely wiped out and over 1,000 persons, about one-half the population, are homeless and up to the time a special relief train from Louisville reached here were in great distress. The heaviest loser is the American Tobacco company which lost two large stemmers and 1,000,000 pounds of tobacco. The American loss has not been estimated but will be very heavy.

Other large structures destroyed were Lucille Memorial church, Methodist church and the two hotels, Breckenridge Inn and Cloverport hotel. The losses on these have not been computed, the owners and occupants devoting themselves entirely to fighting the flames in other parts of the little town and doing what they could to succor the women and children huddled in little groups wherever shelter could be found from the biting cold of the night and early morning.

The following business houses are in ruins and their losses are estimated to be: Haman & Son, furniture, $25,000; F. Frabee, $15,000; F. N. Depuy, $40,000; Seaton & Sippel, $2,000; Haynes & Co., $15,000; Moreman & Owens, $5,000; Alex Boyd's building, $3,000; Short & Haynes, druggists, $8,000; C. & L. Lippel, confectioners, $1,000; W. H. Bowner, two story building, $2,000; the Breckenridge News, $15,000; Breckenridge bank, loss unknown; Fisher, druggist, $5,000.

Other business houses destroyed and whose losses have not been estimated were those of Miss Juna Miller, millinery; Mrs. Frank Frays, dry goods; H. E. Wingert, merchant tailor; Johnson's boarding house; J. C. Boyd, unoccupied; J. D. Babbage, bookstore and printing office; R. L. Newsome, physician; A. R. Fisher, drugs; James R. Skillman, law office; four meat stores, three barber shops, three blacksmith shops, Sanger's dry goods store, H. E. Dohler's shoe store and the postoffice.

The following are among those whose residences were destroyed: Charles Mayse, Marion Hamilton, L. Lippel, Dr. R. Newsome, Mrs. Sawyer, also a storehouse, Mrs. Lee Herst, Dr. Owen, Fred Frays, Owen Raltt, Mrs. R. L. Sutes, Mrs. Jordan, Tom H. Tousey, Miss Newton and Dr. Littlefoot. Dozens of smaller houses were also burned. There is little left, the remaining houses being scattered and away from the business and residence section. As soon as the management of the Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis railroad learned that hundreds of persons were homeless every available coach between Louisville and Henderson was hurried to Cloverport, and in these the unfortunates will for the time being make their homes. The management also sent 5,000 loaves of bread and other food which came as a great blessing, since not a store was left in town where a mouthful of food could be bought. Adjutant General Murray sent 500 tents from Frankfort. The authorities at Louisville sent a trainload of relief. Help was asked the fire departments of Louisville, Owensboro, Henderson and Evansville. An engine company arrived but it was of little use as the flames had been fanned by a high wind and had by that time done their worst. As far as known no one was seriously injured.

Perished in Tenement Fire.

New York, March 14.—Three persons were killed and three injured in a fire that drove 50 tenants in panic from a five-story tenement house in Brooklyn, and partly destroyed the building. Mrs. Mary Madden, 67, a widow, and George Rantio, 12, leaped from windows and were killed. Mrs. Rantio, 45, the boy's mother, burned to death. Farrell Murray, a motor man, was badly burned while carrying Mrs. Mary Dehrer, who was severely burned, through smoke and flames from the fourth floor to the roof.

Patrick's Case Postponed.

New York, March 14.—The case of Albert T. Patrick, charged with the murder of William Marsh Rice was called, but as District Attorney Garvin, for the prosecution, said the report of Prof. Witthaus, chemist, had not yet been received, and asked for adjournment, the examination was postponed until March 26.

General Campbell Discharged.

Washington, March 14.—By order of the president, James R. Campbell, brigadier general of volunteers, is honorably discharged, his services being no longer required. General Campbell formerly was a member of congress from Illinois and served as colonel of one of the Illinois regiments during the Spanish war.

SEIZED THEIR BOATS.

Trading Operations of Natives Stopped.
Pirates Suppressed.

Manilla, March 14.—The native trading operations in the Visayan islands have been effectually broken up. Colonel Fred R. Payne, commanding the United States gunboat Pamanga, pursuant to instructions, has seized and destroyed 300 vessels of various sizes, mostly native craft, constructed to assist the Filipinos, but among those which have come to grief are a number of coasting vessels belonging to leading Manilla firms.

Lieutenant Payne captured a quantity of supplies and war material shipped by the native governor of the island of Leyte to the Filipino commanders on the islands of Samar and Cebu. Pirates who occasionally raided the opposite shore of Negros island, have been suppressed and their boats all burned.

Steel Trust to Have a Fleet.

New York, March 14.—That the United States steel corporation is to build a fleet of cargo steamers similar to that owned by the Standard Oil company to carry its products, is a rumor on Wall street. It is also said there is seriously contemplated a combination of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, the Sloss-Sheffield Iron company and the Republic Iron and Steel company, whose combined capital is over $100,000,000. President Barter of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company has, however, denied that his company will go into any such combination.

Sultan Must Settle.

Washington, March 14.—The cruiser New York will stop at Tangiers on the way to Manilla and take on board Consul General Summers, who will be conveyed to the nearest Moroccan capital. The consul general is to demand that the sultan settle the claims of American citizens against his government. The New York will await the return of the consul general. The sultan recently liquidated one claim against his government, but there are other claims which he has shown no disposition to settle.

Ohio Incorporations.

Columbus, O., March 14.—Delta Home Telephone company, Delta, increase from $10,000 to $20,000; Wilmington Library association, Wilmington; Tusculum Boat club, Cincinnati; Haselton Store company, Haselton, amendment changing name to The Milliken-Gibson company; Team Owners' International Union of America, Toledo; Columbus, Grove City and Southwestern Railway company, Columbus, $250,000.

Portia Isn't Joking.

London, March 14.—Counsel for Miss Portia Knight have written a letter to the papers denying the statement, purporting to have been made by the Duke of Manchester, to the effect that he considers the action taken to be quite unjustified and that he believed it had been dropped. According to counsel, the breach of promise suit against the duke is proceeding; and the courts will decide whether or not it is justified.

Pugilist Shot.

Denver, March 14.—Jimmy Coogan, a local lightweight pugilist, was shot through the head and instantly killed by Frank Salter, better known as "Plunk" Salter, in a saloon. According to witnesses Coogan fired first, declaring Salter had slandered him. Salter is under bond on charge of conspiring with J. E. Wannemaker to assassinate Wannemaker's son-in-law, former Senator D. C. Webber.

Wages Increased.

Youngstown, O., March 14.—At the bi-monthly wage conference between the iron manufacturers and the officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel workers, the manufacturers granted a voluntary increase of 12½ cents per ton for puddlers and two per cent increase for finishers. The increase affects about 20,000 hands.

Increased Dividends.

New York, March 14.—The directors of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul have declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent compared with 2½ per cent for last semi-annual period.

Fuller Will Accept.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., March 14.—W. E. Fuller of West Union, will accept the appointment as assistant attorney general made by President McKinley several days ago. The story of his declination is without authority. Announcement of his acceptance was made here on the authority of his son-in-law.

SANGER GOT HIS PLUM

Appointed Assistant Secretary of War
And Immediately Installed.

PLATT'S OPPOSITION DISSIPATED.

Steps Into the Vacancy Caused by Melkijohn's Pursuit of the Senatorial Sprites in Nebraska.
In Harmony With Root.

Washington, March 14.—Colonel William Carey Sanger of New York, received his commission as assistant secretary of war at 12:30 o'clock p. m. and was immediately sworn in at the office of Secretary Root. The following official announcement was made at the war department regarding the appointment of Colonel Sanger: "Some time before the expiration of the last administration and before the re-appointment of the cabinet, Assistant Secretary Melkijohn notified the president that by reason of his candidacy for the senate, the long canvass attending it and the necessity that there should be an assistant secretary who could be present in Washington to perform the duties of the office, he was unwilling to permit his name to be considered for reappointment. William Carey Sanger has accordingly been appointed and will immediately enter upon the discharge of duties."

Senators Platt and Depew of New York called at the White House and were with the president an hour. When they left the following statement was made as to their visit: "The New York senators, Platt and Depew, called on the president and for the first time the subject of Colonel Sanger's appointment as assistant secretary of war was referred to. Having gone over the matter fully with the secretary of war they desired to offer no opposition to Colonel Sanger's appointment. While the New York senators had been disposed to oppose Colonel Sanger they realized that the assistant to a cabinet officer should be in harmony with his chief and they decided not to carry their opposition any further. Colonel Sanger's confirmation by the senate will not be opposed by them."

Proposition to Steel Workers.

New York, March 14.—A circular issued by President T. J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers asks all lodges and sub-lodges of the association to take on a plan to establish a permanent board of arbitration and conciliation, to be composed of representatives of the combination and officers of the steel workers' association. Mr. Shaffer's circular states that by this board all differences between members of the association and the trust concerning wages and hours of labor may be amicably adjusted, and strikes will be avoided. The appointment of such a board would affect 20,000 iron and steel workers. The proposition to establish the board will come up before the convention of the Amalgamated association to be held at Milwaukee next May.

Bank Burglars Routed.

Richmond, Ind., March 14.—The local police department was notified to be on the lookout for five robbers, who almost succeeded in looting the Farmers bank, at New Madison, O., 10 miles east of Richmond. The outside doors of the big safe containing $10,000 were blown completely to pieces with dynamite. The shock awakened half the population of the village. Two of the robbers who were on the watch, gave the alarm to their companions at the bank and they all made a dash for the railroad tracks, boarding a handcar which they had placed at a convenient point. Several shots were fired at the fleeing robbers and the volley was returned but no one was hurt.

Old Members Suffer.

Fort Scott, Kan., March 14.—Supreme officers of the Order of Select Friends, which has been declared insolvent, place the liabilities at $16,000, but the many connected with the order assert that the order has unpaid claims of $50,000 and perhaps more. No charges of misappropriation have been made. The loss will fall principally on the older policy holders. The younger members will have no trouble securing admission to other orders and will lose practically nothing; but the former, besides losing all they have paid in, will be barred by age from joining any other order.

Will Consider New Proposals.

London, March 14.—Answering a question in the house of commons Lord Cranborne, the under secretary for the foreign office, said no steps had been taken by his majesty's government to revive the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, but the government would be ready to consider in a friendly way any proposals made toward that object by the United States.

THE trusts have hit Newport a heavy blow. The big pipe and steel mills that formerly employed 900 hands were bought up by the combines and are now being dismantled.

TAX-INQUISITORS AND TAX-SHIRKERS.

Our good friend and contemporary, the Public Ledger, seems to think the tax-shirker should be allowed to go his way in peace, and that the tax-inquisitor should be driven out of the country, instant. But why not strike at the root of the evil and thoroughly eradicate it? If you rid the land of the tax-shirker, you get rid of the tax-inquisitor at the same time. But how are we to get rid of the tax-shirker? By simply folding our hands and allowing him to go his way rejoicing? That would be encouraging him in his work of defrauding the State, and by acquiescing in the fraud we would be making ourselves particeps criminis. The man who has $10,000, $25,000, $50,000 or $100,000 and fails, or refuses, to list it or any part of it for taxation, to use plain words simply robs his government of what is its just dues. The State protects him in the enjoyment of his property, and he owes it to his government as a patriotic duty to hear his fair and just pro rata of the public burdens.

The tax-shirker is not only recreant to his duty to his State, but when he fails to pay his taxes he shifts the burden of government from his own shoulders upon his neighbor, who in many instances is far less able to bear them. The poor man who owns a little home and whose all is in sight is thus forced to bear not only his just proportion of the burdens of government, but is weighted down by the load shifted upon him by his wealthy tax-shirking neighbor. Who is better able to pay taxes than the man of wealth? Who have greater interests to be protected by the State than the rich?

How are these tax shirkers to be reached unless some one is employed to hunt them out?

Do they deserve any special consideration? Have they not forfeited the respect due a good and patriotic citizen? When a crime is committed detectives are engaged to run down the criminal. The tax inquisitor is simply a detective, employed to ferret out the class who year after year rob the State of its just dues. And in every State a penalty is added to the taxes out of which the government has been defrauded as a punishment for the tax shirkers. The tax-inquisitor is no new official in Kentucky. The Auditor long ago was authorized to appoint agents in each county to hunt up property that had been overlooked or concealed from the Assessor, and see that it was placed on the tax duplicate. The Public Ledger, however, would have its readers believe that these agents were never thought of until the present Democratic administration came into power at Frankfort. And in this the Ledger man is simply pursuing his time-worn policy of trying to mislead the people.

The only argument (if it could be thus designated) advanced against these "spies" as the Ledger would designate them is that they may not prove honest, and may suffer themselves to be "bought off" by the tax-shirkers. If that is any argument, it could with equal force and propriety be advanced against Assessors.

The State owes it as a solemn duty to see that every citizen bears his pro rata of the burdens of the government, and in the appointment of Auditor's Agents (tax inquisitors) it is simply taking one method of discharging that duty.

Mr. E. Reganstone is able to be out after an illness of a week or so.

Col. W. W. Baldwin's friends will be glad to learn he was much better this morning.

BIG TAX SUIT.

State Auditor's Agent Watson Files Petition Against C. and O. For a Large Amount on the C. and O.
B. S. Lease.

State Auditor's Agent F. Stanley Watson, through his attorneys, Judge A. E. Cole and Allan D. Cole, has filed suit in the County Court to recover a big amount of back taxes from the C. and O. Railroad Company on its lease of the Maysville and Big Sandy road, between Covington and Ashland.

The petition claims that the C. and O. has owned said lease since 1893, and that the net earnings make the said lease worth $6,000,000 or more per annum, and that said lease has been subject to taxation in Mason County from and including 1893 to the present year.

The total amount claimed is $252,300, with penalty of $50,460.

He also sues to recover taxes due the State on said lease during the same period amounting to a total of $504,600, with penalty of $100,920.

The petition prays that the company make full disclosure, and that the County Judge assess said property.

A few days ago the residence of Mr. L. Y. Browning, at Chestnut Grove, Shelby County, caught fire and was destroyed. It is supposed it originated from a spark on the roof. The neighbors responded promptly and nearly all the household effects were saved. All the outbuildings and considerable of the fencing were also destroyed. Loss $1,200, with insurance of only $300. Mr. Browning formerly lived at Shannon and his many friends in Mason regret to learn of his loss.

FATAL ACCIDENT.

Joseph Liter, of Elizaville, Falls From a Wagon and Breaks His Neck.

Joseph Liter, aged fifty-five, of Elizaville, was accidentally killed Thursday afternoon near Lewisburg. He was on his way to Maysville with three hogsheads of tobacco, when he fell from the wagon, breaking his neck and crushing his skull. His dead body was found shortly afterwards, with the team nearby. Coroner Wood held an inquest, the verdict being in accordance with above. Liter was an ex-Confederate and belongs to a well known family. He leaves a wife and several children. The body was removed to Mr. Gaither's home and this morning was taken to Elizaville for burial.

BASE BALL.

Plan on Foot to Organize an Ohio Valley League, to Embrace Maysville and Up-River Cities.

[Ashland Independent.]

Arrangements are being made and plans are well under way for the organization of a base ball league in the Ohio valley for the coming season.

Harry Truby and Dick Smith, of Iron-ton, are pushing the project and offer to put $500 into the formation of a team in their city.

As the plans now go clubs are to be organized in Maysville, Portsmouth, Iron-ton, Ashland, Catlettsburg, Huntington, Gallipolis, Charleston and possibly other cities.

Barlow's Minstrels that are booked to appear at the opera house next Monday night offer some new and sensational features this season that have created general comment among theatre-goers. All the teams and specialists are up-to-date and original. One of the most unique and weird acts is that of the Toledo Bros. They appear in a tropical scene as a crocodile and lizard and introduce a life-like representation of these reptiles. This is the only act of its kind ever exhibited and is regarded as a great feature of the performance.

River News.

The Queen City and Urania are due down this evening and Bonanza to-night. Up, the Wells and Courier.

Another rise at headwaters and a coal shipping stage is expected for several days. About 5,000,000 bushels were started yesterday and day before.

The Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company had bought out Snyder, Barthel & Co., otherwise known as the Bunker Hill Coal Company, of New Orleans, which includes the sale of the two large boats Adelle and Exporter, about 100 barges and coalboats, etc. The consideration was not given out by those interested in the deal at this end. The sale removes a strong independent coal company from the river combine's path and leaves but one still operating, the People's Coal Company.

NOT DISINTERESTED.

British Paper Says One Word For Uncle Sam and Two For John Bull.

London, March 14.—The Globe continues to bewail the nervelessness of the British foreign office in regard to the Russian activity in Manchuria and reiterates its appeal to the United States to "rid itself of the influence of Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister at Washington and the glamor of Russian diplomacy," and thereby save the northern Chinese market to the cotton mills of the southern states.

The rest of the long article, however, seems to indicate that the Globe, like others, is not really so anxious to aid American commerce as to help the widespread British desire to secure the assistance of Washington in stemming Russian ambition, restoring British prestige and keeping the open door for British trade.

Getting Complicated.

Shanghai, March 14.—It is understood here that the negotiations in Peking are likely to be suspended owing to the Manchurian difficulty. The Chinese merchants and other residents here have issued a call for a mass meeting to convene in Shanghai to discuss the adoption of measures aimed to uphold the Chinese court against yielding to Russian demands.

The robbers were captured by a posse and gave their names as Henry Rowe and Weston Kelter. They formerly worked in the mines at Lykens.

In Memoriam.

Died at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. H. O'Neal, on Friday, March 14, 1901, Mr. Jas. W. O'Neal, after an illness of but eight days, of pneumonia. Such was the sad and sudden news heard by his many friends. Jim, as we called him, was twenty-six years of age Monday, February 25th. Death seems to have a word to use in speaking of the departure from earth of this pure and beautiful young soul, too beautiful for our poor earth. Jim was a young man of noble characteristics, and with that sunny disposition made friends wherever he went; old and young were his friends, and to him nothing seemed sweeter or more soothing than the conversation of his friends. He was the life of his crowd and always ready to plan some amusement, in which he always took an active part. The removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that is deeply realized by his host of friends, but time, the great healer, comes and applies his soothing balm to our wounded hearts, and we take up the burden and say, "He doeth all things well," and cheerily in memory every act, word and deed of the departed friend, and thus sit to-night and thinking of his flower-covered grave bring this one poor little flower of thought, an humble tribute to the memory of one who was to me a dear friend.

On Sunday, March 3rd, 1901, the remains of this dear beloved son, brother and friend were taken to Washington cemetery and interred beneath the sprays of God's love. His friends and relatives were loath to give him up; but remember, bereaved ones, every wound borne now will be glorified and every sorrow will be turned to joy when through perseverance of fortitude all who have suffered with our Lord shall reign with Him in His Kingdom. It will be only a few more days and then our weary, toilsome way will be closed in eternal rest. O God, sanctify his death to the good of all left in this world in sin and care, until the curtains shall be rent and the mists and shadows that have hovered about us here on earth shall be lost in everlasting glory.

"Too soon he was called away,
Yet all too soon, death had its way.
As by his grave we sit and weep,
Our souls and tears cannot wake him from his sleep:
The depths of our sorrow tongues cannot tell,
At the loss of one we loved so well,
And while he lies in his peaceful sleep,
His sacred memory I shall always keep.
The hard to break the tender chord
When love has bound the heart,
'Tis hard, so hard, to speak the words—
'Must we forever part?'
One by one earth's ties are broken,
As we see the light of day decay,
And the hopes so fondly cherished
Brighten but to pass away.
By one our hopes grow brighter
As we near the shining shore,
For we know across the river
Wait the loved ones gone before.
He shall sleep, but not forever;
There will be a glorious dawn,
We shall meet again, no never.
On the resurrection morn,
In the bright eternal city
Death can never, never come;
In his own good time he calls us
From our rest to home, sweet home."

THEY COPY

Everything we do,
Why don't they copy prices too?

Because they can't, that's what, and that's a good enough reason. We have, from the start, cut the life out of high prices, and thereby benefitting the poor as well as the rich man, and we are in the fight to a finish. Here are a few special stummers—prices that even wholesalers will look at with surprise.

BEGINNING MONDAY, MARCH 11, and Lasting Two Weeks, We Will Sell—

Three-pound Standard Tomatoes, the finest ever put up, at 7c. a can. Yes, you can get as many as you desire at this snap price.

Three-pound Standard Pie Peaches at 7c. a can. Don't forget to tell your neighbor about this if you have any use on earth for his friendship.

Three-pound strictly fancy Table Peaches, 10c. a can, worth 20c.

Two-pound Standard String Beans, the 10c kind at 5c. a can. You never picked 'em nicer and more tender off the vine.

Two-pound Standard Sugar Corn at 5c. a can. It's just the same kind that all other grocers ask 10c. for.

Choice California Dried Peaches, four pounds for 25c. A half dozen of 'em will fill a saucer. So nice.

Loose Muscatel Raisins, the large kind, at 7c. a pound.

Great big Prunes, forty to the pound, at 7 1/2c.

Yours for Bargains,

H. E. Langdon & Co.
